

PRESS PROFILE

Manley HOPKINSON

Empowering Compassionate Leadership

INTRODUCING MANLEY HOPKINSON – Ocean Racer, Polar Explorer, Businessman, Executive Leadership Advisor, Author and Key Note Speaker

Manley Hopkinson is the world's leading voice in compassionate leadership. He creates and develops the transformational leadership behaviours needed for people to perform at a high level consistently – working in the boardrooms and offices of some of the world's biggest corporations.

Schooled in leadership from experiences as diverse as being an officer in the Royal Navy and Royal Hong Kong Police, to being a skipper in the BT Global Challenge round the world yacht race and winning the first skiing race to the Magnetic North Pole, Manley brings the lessons he's learnt on ice and at sea to the boardroom.

Compassionate leadership is first understanding ourselves, then understanding the needs of others, and finally acting with positive intent – securing the best for all. The five values of compassionate leadership are awareness, courage, confidence, joy and compassion.

Manley has sat on the board of the ATLAS Consortium and Hewlett Packard Enterprise Services Defence & Security UK, is People and Performance consultant at Ark Data Centres UK and a Senior Advisor at McKinsey & Company, London.

Compassionate Leadership

Manley's book reveals how to become a compassionate leader – and why this is pivotal to creating committed, high-performing teams.

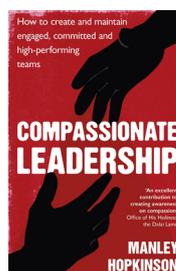

Interwoven with amazing, at once nail-biting and highly inspirational tales from Manley's adventures around the globe, from fighting off Polar Bears to skippering your crew through a hurricane, the book explores the diverse challenges leaders face – from establishing leadership legitimacy to identifying your team's motivational needs – and how to tackle them.

Each page offers practical, straight-talking advice, exercises and tips to transform the way you lead your team and the culture of your organisation.

The Compassionate Leadership Academy

Manley founded The Compassionate Leadership Academy because he believes leadership development is for all. The online academy delivers affordable, effective training on a large scale, aligning teams and promoting positive relationships.

Approved and accredited by The Institute of Leadership & Management, the academy is proven to drive engagement and performance - raising the bar across an organisation and developing future leaders.

- » Founder of Manley Talks Ltd – renowned consultancy developing compassionate leaders and high-performing teams, working globally with governments and organisations
- » Successful business author – of Compassionate Leadership: How to Create and Maintain Engaged, Committed, High-Performing Teams (Piatkus)
- » Winner of the first ever Polar Race – skiing to the magnetic North Pole
- » Skipper in the world's toughest yacht race – The BT Global Challenge (9 months, 32,000 miles round the world)
- » Board Member helping to transform organisations around the globe – including ATLAS Consortium and Hewlett Packard Enterprise Services Defence & Security

READY TO SPEAK TO THE MEDIA:

Manley Hopkinson is a charismatic and engaging speaker and is available to provide expert comment, by-lined articles and interviews on topics including:

Why Compassionate Leadership is the route to high performance and commitment

What being a skipper in the world's toughest yacht race taught me about leadership

How to turn around a failing team

Commitment v Compliance: What's your team's mood and why it matters

'Challenge everything' – what winning the Polar Race taught me about strategy

How to stop a team falling apart under pressure

What sailing 32,000 miles around the world taught me about resilience

How to create a strong team culture (in challenging times)

How the '3 needs theory' can help you tap into your team's motivational needs

How to get your management team on board with cultural change

For further information, an interview, comment or an article from Manley, please contact:

Emma Preece: ✉ emma.preece@thebookpublicist.co.uk

☎ +44 (0)1497 288018